FINANCIAL AID BASICS

How Do I Pay For College?

If you think you can't afford to go to college, think again. Financial aid has helped millions of students pay for their education beyond high school.

Fill out just one application — at www.fafsa.gov — to determine your eligibility for multiple forms of financial aid.

How Do I Apply For Financial Aid?

You are now able to transfer tax data from the IRS to the FAFSA if you complete the FAFSA more than two weeks after filing your taxes.

To apply, you must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The form is available in early winter online at www.fafsa.gov and is used to apply for a Minnesota State Grant, a Federal Pell Grant, the Minnesota Indian Scholarship, a Direct Loan, and many other financial aid options available at individual colleges. The form requires you to submit information about your and your family's income and assets.

Undocumented students who qualify for the Minnesota Dream Act can use the state financial aid application available at: www.ohe.state.mn.us/MNDreamAct

Undocumented students can apply for state financial aid by accessing the online MN Dream Act - State Financial Aid application. To be eligible for the MN State Grant, the application must be submitted no later than the 30th day of the term. The results of the application can also be used to qualify for in-state tuition rates and state financial aid. Some colleges and universities may have scholarships available to students regardless of immigration status. It's important to check with the campus that interests you to learn more about possible (school-specific) scholarship opportunities. Minnesota offers a loan program called the SELF Loan Program, which is available to students regardless of immigration status. A separate application is used to apply for the SELF Loan, available through the college's financial aid office.

The MN Dream Act application should be submitted once for each academic year the student is enrolled in college.

The financial aid offices at the colleges that interest you are a good source of information about how to pay for their college. Applying for financial aid does not cost anything. By applying, you do not commit yourself to attend any college.

Visit www.ohe.state.mn.us/paying for a more extensive list of options to pay for college.

SIX Basic Steps to applying for financial aid

- 1. Apply for admission to one or more colleges.
- 2. Apply for financial aid at www.fafsa.gov using the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) after January 1. Undocumented students should use the state financial aid application, available at www.ohe.state.mn.us/MNDreamAct instead of the FAFSA.
- 3. Apply for scholarships offered by the colleges or other sources. Ask for applications or find them online. Check out the free online scholarships sites such as www.fastweb.com to search for private scholarships.
- 4. Receive college admittance letters (timing varies).
- 5. If possible, import federal income tax information into FAFSA on the web and respond promptly to any requests from the financial aid office for tax transcripts or other information required for verification.
- 6. Receive letters from colleges outlining your financial aid eligibility (usually April 1 or later, depending on when you submitted your FAFSA), and respond accordingly.

What Types of financial aid are available?

Financial aid comes in several forms:

- 1. Need-based grants from federal and state governments that you do not have to repay;
- 2. Loans from federal and state governments or private entities that must be repaid with interest;
- 3. Work-study jobs, either on or off campus, that enable you to earn money to help pay the cost of attending college;
- 4. Tuition reciprocity provides reduced tuition for Minnesota students attending public colleges and universities in North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Manitoba and one college in Iowa;
- 5. Scholarships and educational benefits for students with special circumstances and abilities. Examples include child care assistance; military benefits; merit aid for good grades and academic achievement; or scholarships based on race, ethnicity or a special talent or life circumstance.

Contact each college you are considering to find out about special assistance and scholarships.

Where can I get additional information?

The Minnesota Office of Higher Education offers a variety of resources online at www.ohe.state.mn.us/paying. Here you will find:

Tuition reciprocity applications, information about the Minnesota College Savings Plan and the SELF Loan program

Information about Minnesota and federal financial aid

Information on education tax credits and benefits

Information on Minnesota colleges, universities and career schools including their contact information, programs offered, tuition and fees, websites and FAFSA codes

A personal financial aid estimator for students and parents who want to gain general information about the types of aid for which they may qualify

How much does College Cost?

The cost of attendance varies from college to college. The financial aid package you receive may also vary based on the college you choose. In addition to tuition and fees, there are costs for room and board, books and other expenses. These costs are all taken into account when the college determines your financial aid award.

Estimated average annual tuition and fees for resident undergraduates attending Minnesota schools:

$5,397	Minnesota colleges
$8,049	State universities
$13,840	University of Minnesota
$18,013	Private career schools
$36,002	Private colleges and universities

Note: Averages are based on tuition and fees reported for the 2015-2016 academic year. The most current tuition and fees for each institution is available at www.ohe.state.mn.us/tuition.

Are there Tax Benefits for going to college?

Yes. Federal tax benefits can help offset the cost of attending college. Benefits include:

- American Opportunity Tax Credit: For tax year 2015, you may be able to claim a tax credit on your federal tax return of up to $2,500 for each eligible student.
- Lifetime Learning Tax Credit: You may be able to claim a tax credit of up to $2,000 for qualified tuition and related expenses per family.
- Student Loan Interest Deduction: You may be able to deduct interest on student loans for yourself, your spouse or other dependents. The maximum deduction cannot exceed $2,500.
- Employer-paid Tuition Assistance: Some employers offer tuition and fee reimbursement. As a student, you may receive up to $5,250 of education benefits tax free from your employer each year. Generally, you must pay tax on any amount of education benefit received from your employer that exceeds $5,250 for the year.

For additional information on federal tax benefits, consult the Internal Revenue Service website at www.irs.gov and see publication #970 or call (800) 829-1040.
